

Jamie Oliver Creates Authentic Cooking at Home

Cooking has always been Jamie's passion and looking for ways to improve the cooking experience is always on his mind. As well as looking for fresh ingredients around the world to flavour his dishes, he also keeps an eye out for new materials and shapes of cookware that would help him in the kitchen, and help to create the most authentic cooking experience.

Together with Tefal, Jamie has created the At Home series - a range of cast iron and cast aluminium cookware to create lively and vibrant cuisine to share with friends and family.

Cast iron is the perfect material to retain heat longer, which makes this range ideal for stewing and slow cooking.
